THE EXHIBITION.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

The attendance at the Exhibition yesterday morning was very fair, and towards noon promised to equal that of the previous days, numbers increasing in the afternoon, while the spectators on the route were crowded. The main show and cattle parades took place, and a contest between sheep dogs, which proved little more than a farce. Instead of driving the dogs, the exhibitors merely allowed them to bark until they were tired, and the competition was given up, no prize being awarded. The stock sales were commenced at 10 o'clock, but although there was a moderate attendance, the business was not very brisk.
